

Who is Dr. John Bellomo and how does he serve The Lord?

John Bellomo, one of the leading chiropractors in Orlando, Florida, is one of the few professionals that has been able to overcome the temptation of taking the easy way out and has dedicated his life to the rewarding field of health care. As a chiropractor, Dr. John Bellomo has been through years of schooling and has put all of this experience to use in the founding of his own practice: the Bellomo Family Chiropractic Life Center. Dr. John Bellomo, with the help of his wife, Maida Bellomo, and his brother, Dr. Joe Bellomo, has been able to create a flourishing and effective practice that has benefitted the lives of its patients and the overall wellbeing of the community.

Dr. John Bellomo worked hard during his undergraduate years to receive a degree in biology and clinical nutrition. It was during his years as an undergraduate student that John Bellomo dreamed up the idea of opening his own chiropractic practice. Having been in the care of diligent chiropractors since he was only three years old, John Bellomo understood the need for great chiropractors and devoted his life to helping others maintain healthy lifestyles. After graduating with his first degree, John Bellomo went on to attend the Life Chiropractic College, where he earned his Doctor of Chiropractic Degree.

Doctors choose their fields for many different reasons, and Dr. John Bellomo chose chiropractic because it manifested a way in which people could achieve healthy living without resorting to invasive procedures and chemical medications—both of which can do as much harm as good. A strong proponent of healthy eating, Dr. John Bellomo has been an important figure in the Orlando community for the past 27 years. Recognized as a trusted resource for information concerning both health and healthy lifestyles, John Bellomo is the go-to professional for all health-conscious inhabitants of the city. He has performed numerous spinal screenings for the Central Florida School Systems, Frito Lay, Walgreens, Costco and Safety Workshops for the United States Postal Service and UPS.

Come and hear how God uses this man in the trenches every day for His glory as he heals with the knowledge God has blessed him with.

Dr. John Bellomo, his wife, Maida, and the blessing of six beautiful children, all delivered at home by Dr. John.
